Palms Community Day 2021 Proposal

Palms NC should explore doing a car based “virtual event” in August 2021 for the yearly Palms Community Day event that was skipped in 2020. The City Clerk’s office has indicated that they could approve an event of this type, assuming all the normal event procedures are met.

2020 saw many events change their format to accommodate social distancing and keep people safe. With that in mind, the creativity seen in event planning should be duplicated by Palms NC. Homeboy Industries did a giant Holiday event in December 2020 called “CARNival”. They had a huge parking lot and set up a horseshoe shaped course for cars to drive from station to station to have various items placed in their trunk. Stations included groceries, children’s toys, clothes, and hot BBQ food. Everyone left with a full trunk and no one was exposed to any strangers. Volunteers kept to their stations, wore masks & gloves, and promoted positive behavior for maintaining safety. Over 4,000 meals were prepared that day for 500 families & several homeless shelters.

There is no reason that Palms cannot do the same for Community Day!

A BBQ contest would work out well because several highly likely participants were involved in the Homeboys event and this sort of event was already approved by the City Clerk’s office for the attempted 2020 Community Day. Palms could have several city blocks have their traffic blocked like normal. The BBQ stations could be set up in the middle of the street like the previously approved design. The major difference would be “drive up service only”. One side would be for the same free samples that were going to be included in 2020 (paid for by event sponsor like the one that was secured for 2020). The other side would be reserved for pre-orders, so that a car could display a ticket number and then have their food placed in a trunk or through a window. The BBQ teams are well versed in such ordering systems and have used them frequently during the pandemic.

The BBQ contest itself could be off to the side. It would be on Zoom, so that everyone could watch regardless of the time they show up for food. Ideally a comedian of some sort could be the emcee for the event. A DJ should be involved as well to provide positive energy through music for the event. A sponsor would be found for prize money just like in 2020 (Oakmont Capital).

There are many other options for stations for this car based event. There could be several kid stations where art kits, school supplies or other goods can be given away by organizations that are involved in kids' causes. Emergency supply stations could make sense for giveaways. City Services can have useful information to pass out as well. Other local restaurants may request stations as well.

The City Clerk also indicated that planning a dual track event could be reasonable for August. By dual track, that would mean planning both a virtual event as described above, but also a regular in person event in case that is a viable scenario by August. Much of the planning would be the same but there would be some extra expenses for things like tables, other entertainment, and more. Another issue is any event after July 1 will require a vote from the new Board, but a vote by the current Board would allow the City Clerk to research the event and advise the NC on how to proceed with a contingent vote.
